October Meeting--Kid's Magic

In October Keith Smith and Steve Bender will headline a presentation of Kid's Magic. Steve earned his living for 17 years performing for kids. Keith uses magic in his regular job to put the kid's at ease and it has worked wonders. It's one of the reasons he's one of the most successful people in his field. So what is the difference between performing for kids and performing for adults? Well, that's one of the reasons to attend this presentation.

One of the most lucrative fields of magic is the children's market. If you want to increase your income and you'd like to do more birthday parties, then listen to Steve's formula for building your kid's show market. He will share with you his thoughts which enable him to average 600 shows per year for 17 years. What if you could add 3 shows per week to schedule? That would be 150 shows per year. Steve will share with you what he did to build his kid's show business.

Keith and Steve will then demonstrate a number of effects that excite kids. Hear their reasons for what they do when they go to Shriner's. Here their thoughts behind why they present a certain effect in a certain way. They don't merely do magic. They use their magic to entertain.

If earning extra money excites you, then don't miss this presentation. If you want to be able to ask two kid's performers specific question, then don't miss this presentation. If you ever perform for kids, then you just might want to mark this night down on your calendar now. October 6th, 7:30 PM

IBM Convention in Cleveland- It Rocked!

David Snetsinger

Cleveland, the home of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, also rocked around the clock at an outstanding IBM Convention. Over a thousand conventioners came to see some wonderful magic in great shows, out-standing lectures, excellent dealers with lot of social activities and friendships shared as well. Cleveland was a great city for the convention with lots to see and easy to walk around the downtown area and to the theater district where the shows were held.

The evening shows were very good with too many stars to mention but the clear winner was the show starring Jeff McBride, Abbi Spinner and Eugene Berger. It rivaled the Topaz show at the SAM Convention as one of the most entertaining I have ever seen. The Gold Medal stage contest show which features the six best contestants from the preliminary stage contests, regardless of whether they are senior or youth IBM members, was not up to its usual overall level of talent. Actually four of the six contestants were Youth members. The close up contest was good but no the Gold Cups were not awarded.

Top lectures were John Carney, Jeff McBride, Dan Garrett and Ali Bongo. There was also first rate Close-up shows with Henry Evans, Aldo Columbini, Dan Garrett, Chase Curtis and Jason Latimer. Some of the unusual doings were a game show called Bonk which contestants "beep in" to answer magic related questions by "honking" a rival's hard hat Don Wiberg, our guest performer, at the up coming President's Banquet was the winner. There was also an American Idol type magic contest as well as a Strolling Magicians' competition. A new feature was that of live updates, interviews and other convention events sent instantly around the world to IBM members. This was a real way to share the convention with those who could not attend. Coverage in this manner will probably be expanded next year.

Our Ring 1 presence at the Convention, with the SAM convention in St. Louis, was limited to Tom Westerhide, who was demonstrating his magic effects for Joe Stevens Magic and Dave Snetsinger who was Chair of the Ballot and Elections Committee. John Davit while not present was recognized in joining the elite group of Order of Merlin, having been a member of the IBM for 25 years.

On the Business side of the convention in election for International Treasure, Mike Santow was elected over Mike Stratman. In Constitutional changes, Junior members will be called Youth members and the age to join the IBM has been lowered to ten years. Phil Willmarth, Editor of The Linking Ring was nominated to become International Vice President next year. The next IBM convention will be the last week of June in Reno, Nevada. See you there?

MAGIC Live!

By Steve Zuehlke

August 22-25 were the dates for Magic Live! The setting was the Orleans Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. There is so much to write about and only a short amount of space but I will try to do my best. First, let me start off by listing the talent.

Kalin and Ginger, Dimmare, Kerry Pollack, Tina Lenert, Ronn Lucas, Curtis Adams, The Passing Zone, David Sandy, John Moehring, Jeff McBride, Joshua Jay, John Lovick, Kostya Kimlat, Andi Gladin, Martin Nash, Eric Mead, Michael Close, Tim Conover, Shoot Ogawa, Armando Lucero, David Charvet, Richard McDougall, Rory Johnston, Michael Diliberto, Jim Sisti, Don Wayne, Charlie Frye, Mike Caveney, Marvin Roy, Michael Weber, Mac King, Levent, Kevin James, Norm Nielson, Penn and Teller, Tony Chapek, Randy Pryor, Greg Frewin, Rick Thomas, Anthony Gatto, Mike Michaels, Ryan Oakes, Max Maven, Raj Madhok, Gregory Wilson.....and that was just the talent. I hope I didn't forget anyone. The dealers room was packed with the following in attendance...Meir Yedid, Ann White, Wellington Enterprises, Brett Sherwood, RNT 2, Pro-Magic, Mentalism Unlimited, Nielson Magic, Bill Smith, Douglas Tilford, Bob Miller, Wolf's Magic, A-1, Camirand Academy, Hottrix, Kevin James, Dean Dill, H and R Books, Daytona Magic, Elmwood Magic, Hocus Pocus, Houdini's Magic Shop, Bob Kohler, MagicLab, Magic Magazine and Malloy Magic. As one could imagine, every act was better than the next. One of the highlights was juggler Anthony Gatto who opened to the first evening show only to receive a 5 minute standing ovation. This young man was unbelievable! Penn and Teller were a real treat as well. Mac King was the moderator and talked to these two amazing guys for several hours. We all got a chance to find out what makes these two "click". Both were readily accessible during the event and both are really nice guys. One of the cool things about this event was that after every "session" you were given a full set of notes covering everything that was discussed. All of the notes fit into a nice 3 ring binder that was given on the opening night, they had a get together in the main ballroom. Upon entering, you were given a set of 12 identical trading cards. These cards resembled baseball trading cards. On the front was a cover of Magic Magazine and on the back was a short history. Your job was to mingle with the guest and try to collect a set of all 12. This task was accomplished rather quickly which left you the rest of the evening to mingle and make new friends.

Aside from all the talent that was booked, the magic stars were everywhere. Almost everybody who is anybody was there.

I took a deck of playing cards and made my rounds collecting autographs. At next years Jubilee we are going to hold a raffle and some lucky soul will leave with a framed set of all 54 cards of some of the biggest names in the business.

An interesting note is that this was only the second time in 13 years that Stan has put this convention on. If and when he holds another one, I strongly suggest you make your reservations early as it will sell, out as this year did.

HAUNTED HAYLOFT

We are not that far away from our annual shows at the Nestlé's Haunted Hayloft (Formally Purina Farms).

This year's event will take place the two weekends prior to Halloween, October 15, 16, 17 and 22, 23, 24. For those who have never performed for this event, you are missing a fun and exciting experience. We have three magicians each of the six nights and we perform 4 shows. This is a family event and outside. Magic must be safe, good taste and most of all fun for all ages. This is Ring Ones big event of the year that pays for a lot of our activities. So, if you want to show your magic skills and have fun with other magicians call Larry Skorepa at (636) 394-2968. There are only a few dates and times available!!!!

Chris Korn is Radical!

DVD Review

Steve Zuehlke

Chris Korn has recently introduced two new DVD's to the market place. The first is entitled Radical Korn while the second is entitled Extreme Korn. Both are available from your local dealer or through www.bobkohlermagic.com.

Both DVD's run just a little over an hour and both contain 4 effects from Chris' working repertoire. I have seen Chris perform all these effects for laypeople and I guarantee they kill. The best part is they are all within the reach of the average magician. While none of the effects are self working, all can be mastered with a little practice. Support our local talent and pick these up. You will not be disappointed.

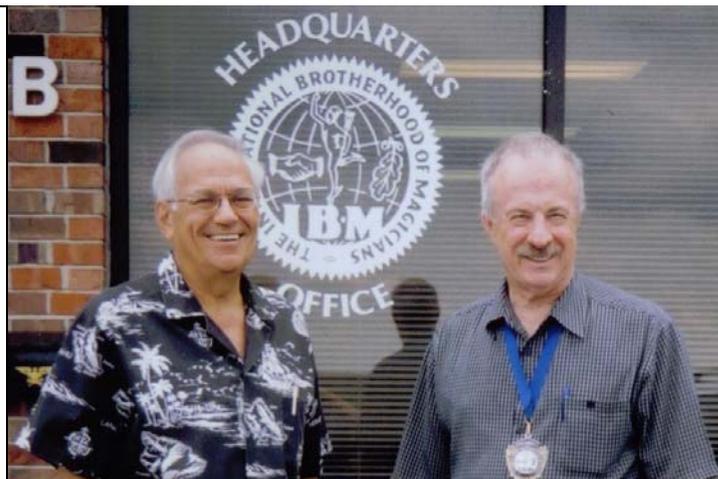

Magic On TV

Steve Zuehlke

Chris Korn is in the news. Chris has recently wrapped up shooting 6 one hour specials for A & E Television. Tentative airdates are slated to start October 4 and run for 6 consecutive weeks. These specials were shot in 6 different locations and are full of surprises. I had the pleasure of seeing the pilot and I was thoroughly impressed. (see related article on page 5)

Roger Miller, Territorial VP and Tony Wilson IBM President.

IBM International President Visits

Tony Wilson, President of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, visited St. Louis during the SAM Convention and met a number of Ring 1 members there. Tony, who resides in New Zealand is the first IBM President from the Southern Hemisphere and only the seventh President from outside of North America.

Dave Snetsinger took Tony and wife, Mary along with President-Elect, Roger Miller (Kansas City) and Board member Joan Caesar (Canada) for a tour of the IBM Offices in South County. They were pleased to see the office set-up and complimented Executive Secretary, Darleen Eads on the office operation.

Can you answer this Trivia Question

Just as a side note to IBM Presidents, Ring 1 has had three members who served as the IBM International President. Can you name the three? Answer elsewhere in this Spirit.

Consider Attending Houdini Days Next Year

Jeff Lefton

I was fortunate to attend Houdini Days this past Labor Day weekend, Sept 3-5, 2004 in Appleton, WI. Appleton bills itself as Houdini's hometown (although, according to the town's Houdini Museum, he only lived there for 4 years as a child). I highly recommend you consider attending next year. Here is a brief write-up on it.

Houdini Days is a unique event in that it is part town magic festival, part magic convention. The magic convention was in a Radisson Hotel in downtown Appleton. The festival was 2 blocks away in the streets, which were blocked off, and in a little park. In addition to magicians, they had lots of food vendors, flea market tents, etc. The festival was free & open to the public. The magic convention was $50, which covered 11 lectures over 2 days. The Sat evening show in the auditorium was $25. Quite a bargain!

Forest Hendricks served from 1953-54, Jim Nagel from 1992-93 and David Sandy from 2003-04. David Sandy is probably the one you missed. Spring Show 2005

If you would be interested in performing in the 2005 Spring Show, it's not that far away. We will be looking for some great acts to perform in the show. Start putting your act together or bush off one that is tried and true. If you would like to have your act considered for the show, please contact Ted Schnarre 636-947-1517 or Terry Richison 314-232-4187 for more information.

Houdini Days is basically 3 days. The first and third days were back to back lectures by stars of magic—Doc Eason, Jeff McBride, Ice McDonald, Silly Billy, Robert Baxt, Mark Wilson, Michael Finney, etc. There was a break between lectures during which the lecturers would peddle their wares in the back of the room. It was great, non-stop magic.

The middle day, Saturday, was a town festival with magicians brought in from all over the country. There were 3 performance areas, each with back to back acts from 9:30am-4:30pm: Main stage, children's stage, & the close-up tent. Most of the entertainers performed 2-3x throughout the day. Magicians included, in addition to the above lecturers, Michael Ammar, Kevin King, John Stetson, Tom Burgoon, Bill Malone, etc. It was like an outdoor version of the Magic Castle. It was hard to decide which show to catch when! Most of the audience were laymen, and it was a treat to see these magicians work a lay crowd.

Saturday night there was a show in the civic center, right across the street from the hotel. Robert Baxt was very funny as the emcee. Ice McDonald did a snazzy dove act. Michael Finney got a lot of laughs. Jeff McBride did the second half of the show and received a standing ovation.

I particularly enjoyed Robert Baxt and Joshua Jay. I am delighted to hear that Joshua has been booked for the Midwest Magic Jubilee. He has some fresh ideas that are very commercial. His 3 coin routine where 3 coins vanish one at a time in mid air was outstanding. He also had a 4 kings bit that was simple and funny. Robert Baxt, I remembered from years ago doing a prize-winning metals routine. He has lost over 100 lbs and I didn't even realize this was the same person until he showed a video of himself performing years ago. He had some funny & clever ideas on the torn & restored newspaper, a lantern that lights when you lie, and the torn & restored bill.

The attendance was high and enthusiastic for a night of "dollar store magic." Don began the night with a very interesting way to produce goldfish in the show. I must say it was THUMBS UP to some and THUMBS DOWN to others. No pun intended. I've had enough trouble with keeping goldfish alive anyhow without the added component of the thumb tip, but there was lots of excitement over this use. Don also showed some plexiglass boards that could be manufactured at home to produce predicted cards. The items Don used were pretty much all purchased at the dollar store, Wal-mart, Home Depot. If you are one who is willing and go out and pick up the supplies you need you can build some very nice effects for next to nothing. The 8 ft magic wand can be made for $8 verses the $20 you would pay to a dealer. The invisible card trick, using the large cards buying your cards, at the $1 store .Buy the time you would add up the savings it would be quit a bit. A little bit of labor on your behalf you would have a fine product. I did notice after the lecture though many were making purchases, I would guess people would just rather spend the extra money to have it right now, than to go through the effort of making it their self, which I'm sure Don did not have a problem with. Don generated an enormous amount of interest when he showed that all of his tables he made from cardboard. The cardboard was painted and dressed up and looked good at a distance and close up. I would see a problem with this as not lasting to long if you did any amount of shows, a lot of work would need to go into the finished product but there would be very little durability with packing and unpacking. This would be something ok for someone starting out in magic but if you do any amount of shows it's worth the money to buy a good case to haul your show around. I will say Don is from the old school of making your magic effects for next to nothing and they work just as well as the ones purchased from the dealers, and Don has a better understanding of what it really takes to build a effect and having the ability to have it the way he wants it to look and work as to what you get from buying it already made, and then trying to make adjustments to it. It is always interesting to see another magician set up in their boxes, how loads are held in place on their bodies. The biggest thing was that Don made you think "out of the box". How to over come a problem you might have very simply. One of Dons favorite seems to be Velcro, which I think works great, in fact I'm kind of stuck on the idea (sorry). In general, the lecture truly showed the inventive mind that Don has.

The banquet began with a close-up performance by Terry Richison that was standing room only. The interest in close-up magic seems to be very high amongst our group and so I think that we will focus more next year on the viewing area of this show to make it more effective. Lots of laughter and applause was heard which meant that Terry was giving an exciting beginning to the night. A special thanks was also given to Sheree and Laverne Skorepa, (wife and mother of Larry), for the decorations and manning the door. Ray Belz was also recognized for the great work on the programs. They included lots of pictures and colors. The meal was served after Fr. Gebelein gave the blessing and then the night was in full swing.

The Order of Merlins was announced with special recognition given to George Ulett, Dave Snetsinger, and David Sandy for being > 50 years in the IBM. George shared with us the importance of support from his wife and that they were also celebrating their wedding anniversary with all of us that evening. (continued on page 8)

Special recognition was given to ring one member, John Apperson for his taking on the position of SAM International President. John was sharing many stories with me of the amount of commitments leaving me wondering how an International President does it. John shared with me that for instance, there are 60 different possibilities of conventions and meetings in a four month period. Having John as a member adds to the long list we have in Ring One of strong membership.

The evening was then turned over to recognitions of those who have served at the international level in a board position for SAM or IBM. Also recognition was given to those of ring one who have placed in a contest over the years at the national level. The evening's program is definitely one to hang onto due to its history. Thanks to Ray Belz, Harry Monti, and Dave Snetsinger for taking on the task of putting this list together.

Larry Skorepa presents Returning President Keith Smith with a token of the Club's appreciation for an outstanding job of moving the club to new heights.

Dennis Burks lead the ceremony of bringing the new board in. To those who were present, it was evident right away that the new board contains new spirit as well as some long standing members.

After dessert was served, all took there seats to begin the evening's show. Terry began the night with a flash, pun intended, to introduce our very own Steve Zuehlke and his daughter Megan There performance was full of color and high in entertainment. From the fire eating to the color changes to the silks and parasol, all provided a manipulation sequence that brought a lot of excitement.

Steve Finklestein helping Terry Richison with his outstanding piece of Mentalism.

Terry then followed with a strong presentation of a card determined by 3 different people and being at a specific location in a deck that was chosen by another audience member. It's tough to fool a room full of magicians, but Terry definitely achieved this feat. Many were left in awe trying to figure out its possibilities.

Terry then used TVP Dennis Burk to a totally unexplainable Bill to Lemon where Terry never touched the lemon, knife or a selected dollar bill from the audience.

Dennis Burkes makes that final cut in the lemon only to find an unbelievable surprise!

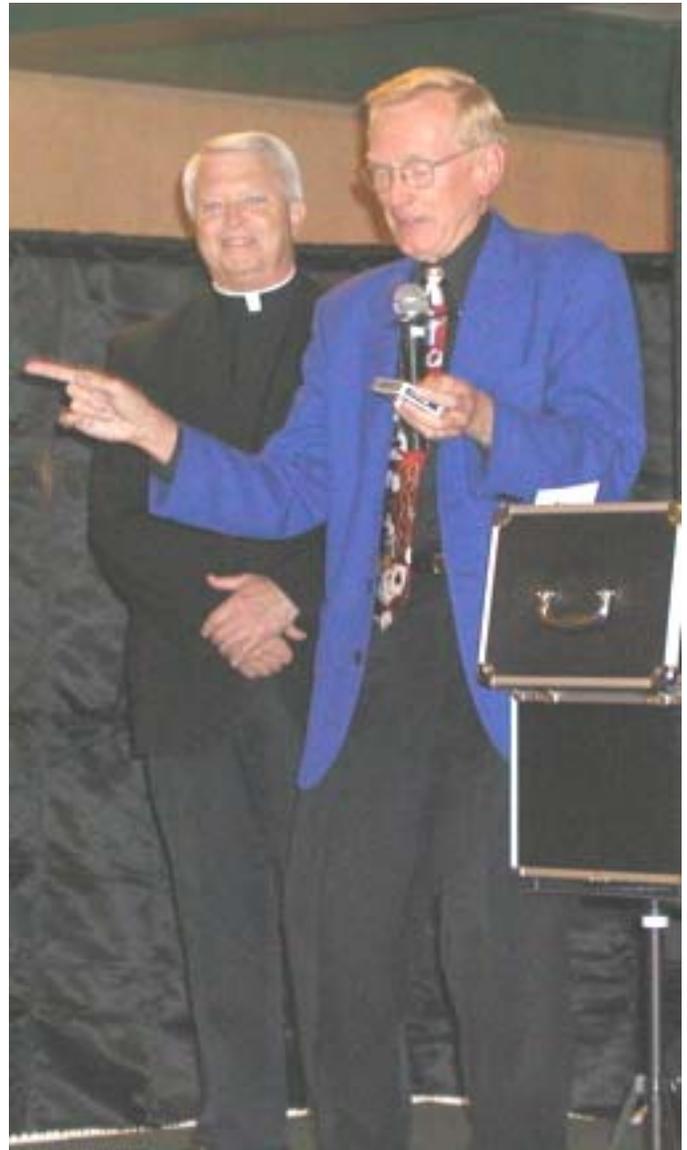

Terry then turned the show over to our out of town performer, Don Weiberg. Don did a comedy act that was full of laughter and stories.

Fr. Gary Gebelein takes ~~the foree~~ a totally random card from Don Wiberg.

You could tell by his style and aura that Don truly loves the stage. Don did a bill to impossible location that left the audience in awe. Reviews suggested more magic in the act, but the magic we did see was flawless.

A big thanks goes out to all who put in their time and efforts to make the two night event such a success. Especially John Harness for providing the sound system and being the sound engineer for the show, Harry Machin and Ray Belz for the great photography and Ted Schnarre and Dave Snetsinger for the set up and tear down.

If you missed the 2005 President's Banquet, You definitely need to make plans to be there next year! You missed a wonderful fun evening.
